Saturday, March 6. 1708.

London, March 6.

'One of the late foreign News-papers, tells us, the following Ordinance was read at the Head of every Regiment in Ghent, the 2d of January paſt.

'WE having nothing more at Heart, than to 'cauſe a good Correſpondence and perfect Friendſhip to be kept up between the Troops of the Allies and the Inhabitants of all Sorts in all the Cities and Places of the Spaniſh Netherlands that are recover'd to the Obedience of his Catholick Majeſty King Charles III, and eſpecially in ſuch Places where the ſaid Troops ſhall be put into Garriſon or into Winter Quarters: We therefore Order and Command all Officers and Soldiers of the ſaid Troops garriſon'd or quarter'd in the ſaid Places, to conform themſelves exactly to this our Intention, and in particular not to give the leaſt Offence or Scandal in any thing relating to Religion, but to ſhew all due Reſpect to the Clergy, and whatever belongs to them, either in the Churches or elſewhere: Expreſsly forbidding all Perſons that are not of the Catholick Religion, to enter the Churches under any Pretext whatſoever; and on the other Hand permitting all Soldiers of that Religion to frequent the publick Worſhip in thoſe Churches, and upon any Occaſion to make Uſe of Confeſſors and Prieſts, either in their Quarters, Hoſpitals, or other Places. Our Intention likewiſe is, that all Churches, Monaſteries, and Pariſhes, ſhall enjoy their Antient Immunities and Privileges in their reſpective Diſtricts; not doubting, that in Requital of the Care and good Order which we will cauſe to be exercis'd in all Places, thoſe to whom it belongs will on their Part do all that is in their Power in Concurrence therewith; and will not in any manner make uſe of the ſaid Franchiſes to the Prejudice of the King or the High Allies; but that all Matters relating thereto may be regulated according to the Uſage obſerv'd during the laſt War. Done in the Camp at Affleghem the 14th of October 1707.

The Prince and Duke of Marborough.,
